

Laptop Programs

Years 9-12

Introduction

Since its inception, Mark Oliphant College has proudly maintained a tradition of providing the latest technology to all learners from Birth to Year 12. This commitment enables students to develop the ICT capabilities required to use technology effectively and become responsible digital citizens both at and beyond school.

College Chromebook Co-Contribution Program

Students in Years 9 to 12 at Mark Oliphant College have the opportunity to purchase a new Chromebook through the College for use both at school and beyond. To participate, students must provide a signed acknowledgement of the College ICT User Agreement and a signed 'Commitment to Pay' form.

The ICT User Agreement outlines the responsibilities of students to safely care for and use the Chromebook while enrolled at the College. The 'Commitment to Pay' form signifies an agreement to contribute a total of $400 towards the cost of the Chromebook, payable in four annual instalments of $100 at the commencement of Years 9, 10, 11, and 12.

The College subsidises the remaining cost of the Chromebook and covers the expense of Accidental Damage and Protection (ADP) insurance for each device. The total cost of a new Chromebook with ADP is approximately $850.

Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) Program

The school supports students who wish to use their own laptops through the Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) program. To ensure safe and effective operation on the College network, BYOD devices must meet the specified minimum to recommended specifications. Approval requests for BYOD devices can be submitted through Student Services.
